June 6-8, 2023
Hawaii State Library
478 S King St, Honolulu, HI 96813, United States

Tuesday, June 6 – Leadership and Sustainability (times TBD)

Day 1 (June 6) – Leadership and Sustainability

The group would be taken out to the ewa (west side) of Oahu for an adventure in Nanakuli and Waianae Coast.

- Time at the Kaala with Eric Enos to discuss the sustainable model of an ahupua'a as a method for caring for the land. It's also a model for thinking about how our environments are structured.
- Visit and lunch at the Nanakuli Public Library (the newest branch)
- Reception at the Hawaii State Library (the oldest branch)

Wednesday, June 7 (times TBD) Design Thinking with Ian Kitajima

The group will spend the day at the Sandbox, a public private working and collaboration space.

- The day will be dedicated to a workshop on rapid prototyping and design thinking from an expert in the field. The skills learned in this course can be applied to any program.

Thursday, June 8 (times TBD)

- The Cultural of Hawaii and the Future through Art with Solomon Enos. What can our collective histories and culture teach us and help us to build our futures?
- Western Council Business Meeting
